PATENT APPLIED FOR.

The Britex Arid Urinal has been developed for today's environment where saving both time and water has become paramount. Being manufactured of composite, this urinal is not only lightweight but also extremely robust. Fitting is effortless as there is no concrete step or tiling required, it may even be installed with an existing waste without the need to cut concrete or have it made to suit. Access is available through a secure panel at the front which also houses the automatic sensor for hands-free flushing.
